“The Times of Ti switched to Bridge Point Communication for internet service and we could not be happier with their service. There were a few glitches in the very beginning that had nothing to do with your service but you stuck by us until we were 100 percent satisfied. Everyone from the person who answers your phone, to the service men in the field, to the owners of your company have all been a pleasure doing business with. In this day and age good customer service seems to have gone away but not at your company. You are all to be commended and we cannot be more pleased that we made the switch,” shared Scarlett Merfeld, Denton Publications/Times of Ti.
